Lafe Pence Apologizes For His Personalities.

MR. BLAND SECURES NO QUORUM.

He Makes Another Attempt to Close Debate Upon His Bill and Finally Gives Up to Unlimited Discussion. Cleveland Makes Another Batch of Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Mr. Pence's speech of Monday, in which he struck right and left at his colleagues in the house cut a prominent figure in the proceedings. Mr. Pence's reference to Mr. Humer had been incorrectly reported, and rising to a question of privilege he took occasion to apologize for the personalities he had indulged in.

LAPE PENCE.

but Mr. Cooper of Indiana, was not satisfied and gave him a severe scolding. Again Mr. Bland was unable to muster a quorum on his motion to close the debate on the seigniorage bill, so he allowed the debate to run on without limit.

Mr. Bowers of California spoke in favor of the bill. He was followed by Mr. Cannon of Illinois, who made an address against the measure. Mr. Heard of Missouri favored the first part of the bill, but opposed the remainder.

Mr. Bryan then took the floor and drifted into the bond issue. He scored eastern Democrats and gave the Republicans a blast for their tactics on the bond issue.

Going to Nurse His Father.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The son of Chairman Wilson of the ways and means committee left for Mexico early this morning to assist in caring for his sick father. Mrs. Wilson's health is not such as will permit her to nurse him through a long siege of typhoid fever. She has suffered from heart trouble, and the journey to Mexico, supposed to be in the interest of Mr. Wilson, was, in fact, decided on by him in hope that it might help his wife.

The Senatorial Caucus.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Democratic senatorial caucus was the scene of another spirited speech by Senator Brice, made in reply to speeches by members of the finance committee in which one of them, presumably Senator Vest, had said that what concessions had been made had been made at the point of the bayonet.

The only definite action of the forenoon session consisted in a decision to place machinery for cotton manufacturing upon the free list. This concession was granted at the request of the Mississippi senators, who urged because of the fact that they represented the cotton manufacturing industry, which was rapidly growing into importance in the south. The proposition caused considerable debate and more or less reference to favoritism because of sectional lines. It carried when put to a vote.

A PRISONER FOR DEBT.

Edward M. Field Still Held in the Ludlow Street Jail.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Edward M. Field is still in Ludlow street jail, and from present appearances he is likely to stay there indefinitely. It looks as though Mr. Field were the victim of an outrageous stretch of the law. He is held now, after having been released on the original charge, for a dentist's bill. He owes $1800 to Dr. Charles Nette for dental work done several years ago. Nette declares he will not consent to have Field released from jail until his claim is paid. The ex-financier is held on a technicality. He was ordered to pay the dentist's bill about the time of the failure of Field, Lindley, Weichers & Co., but failed to do so. The charge against him now is contempt of court. As a matter of fact, Field is held for debt, which is contrary to the letter and spirit of the law. The debtor's imprisonment act has been out of vogue in this state for three years, having been repealed by the legislature in 1891.

LYNCHED FOR MURDER.

Slaughter Stabs Two Wedding Guests and Is Hanged by a Mob.

RALEIGH, Feb. 28.—A few nights ago at a wedding in Allegheny county, in the extreme northeastern part of North Carolina and many miles from railway and telegraph lines, there was a double murder. This now has its sequel in the lynching of the murderer.

The wedding was at the house of a man named Robinson, whose daughter was the bride. A large crowd attended and among the visitors was Daniel Slaughter of Carroll, Va., whose business was buying cattle. Directly after the marriage ceremony was performed Slaughter cursed an aged uncle of the bride, the old man having asked some questions as to whether he thought he (Slaughter) was as much a man as the Allegheny boys. Slaughter was ordered out of the house, but returned directly. Some of the men present were very angry.

The bridegroom, acting as policeman, tried to stop any row and told Slaughter to sit down and keep quiet. Suddenly Slaughter drew a knife and springing forward, stabbed John Bore to the heart. He tried to inflict another wound, but the bride seized his hands. She was cut in the arm. Slaughter dashed out the door and meeting there Ed Long killed him at one stroke. He got two miles away, but was captured. He narrowly escaped immediate lynching, but a large posse took him to jail at the little town of Sparta. News reached here that a mob went there on Saturday night and attacked the jail. The jailer declared he would shoot the first man who tried to force the door and kept his word, but he was quickly overpowered and Slaughter was taken out and hanged. It is the first lynching in North Carolina in 14 months.

Pocketed the Premiums.

WASECA, Minn., Feb. 28.—Joseph L. Claghorn, in the insurance and loan business, was arrested a few days ago on complaint of the Hartford Fire Insurance company, whose agent he is, charged with failing to turn over $450 received by him as premiums. Claghorn possessed the entire confidence of the community, but when he knew himself to be hopelessly insolvent he continued to receive money from people here and put it out of their reach. Since his arrest it has come to light that his shortages will aggregate fully $15,000.

DUBLIN DOINGS.

Work Begun on the Street Railway—General Notes.

DUBLIN, Feb. 27.—[Special]—This city will soon be leading all her sister towns, as in the days gone by. She is now showing her widespread liberality and enterprise.

The street railway, which has been idle for several months, will soon be in operation again and will have several additions in the way of accommodations and tracks. Mr. R. V. LeGrande, who has lately purchased the right-of-way from the city, has the matter in charge.

The G. A. R. Encampment will be held here in April and Dublin is making big preparations to entertain the many old soldiers who will attend.

We are soon to have a new cotton compress and ice factory here, and we learn it is to be put into operation by Waco men. Just let them stake their money on Dublin and they will get "two to one on a show down."

Several new firms are to open business soon. One dry goods house and one hardware house are settled facts, and several more are contemplated.

We have had some severely cold weather, and a 3 inch snow in the last few days.

It now looks as though the farmer will soon quit the "stereotyped" cry of hard times.

Business is looking up every day now.

Only the Scars Remain.

"Among the many testimonials which I see in regard to certain medicines performing cures, cleansing the blood, etc., I have seen Henry Benson, of the James Smith Wooden Machinery Co., Philadelphia, Pa., whose words impress me more than any other. Twenty years ago, at the age of 18 years, I had swellings come on my legs, which broke and became running sores. Our family physician could do me no good, and it was feared that the bones would be affected. At last, my good old mother urged me to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I took three bottles, the sores healed, and I have not been troubled since. Only the scars remain, and the memory of the past, to remind me of the good Ayer's Sarsaparilla has done me. I now weigh two hundred and twenty pounds, and am in the best of health. I have been on the road for the past twelve years, have noticed Ayer's Sarsaparilla advertised in all parts of the United States, and always take pleasure in telling what good it did for me."
